

Additional Services

Enterprise Licenses

You may license and deliver Academy educational content through your existing Learning Management System.

Custom Courses

We will partner with your team to develop custom courses that specifically meet your needs.

Onsite Training

Our expert medical and health physicists offer live courses, both public and private, to address your unique requirements.

Partners

We have teamed up with FluoroSafety, the industry leader in the safe use of fluoroscopy, to provide online fluoroscopy CME courses.

Landauer Academy

Offering Educational Courses

Developed By Medical Professionals

Contact Us

For questions about our online courses or any additional services provided through Landauer Academy, please email custserv@landauer.com or call 800-323-8830

Overview

LANDAUER Academy provides expertly designed educational courses and content for professionals working in Medical Imaging, Radiation Safety, Medical Physics and other related areas. Authored and peer-reviewed by board-certified medical physicists, courses provide engaging content and effective instruction that can be tailored for individual customer requirements. When applicable, courses are designed to address regulatory requirements including accrediting bodies such as the Joint Commission as well as the NRC and Agreement State Agencies.

Why use Landauer Academy?

- Courses are developed by practicing thought leaders in their respective fields. These medical and health physicists have unrivaled experience and sit on key regulatory committees, uniquely positioning them to offer powerful insights.
- Courses provide important Continuing Education credit and specific courses are eligible for additional credit.
- Content is regularly updated to incorporate the most recent regulatory requirements. New courses are introduced regularly.
- Landauer Academy is more cost-effective and practical than managing training in-house or outsourcing to an expensive Learning Management System.

Paid Courses:

Courses address all modalities!

Choose from a variety of courses, each with a focused presentation and associated testing to ensure material has been mastered.

- Radiography
- Fluoroscopy
- Nuclear Medicine
- Computed Tomography (CT)
- Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI)

Complimentary Resources:

Access valuable content free of charge!

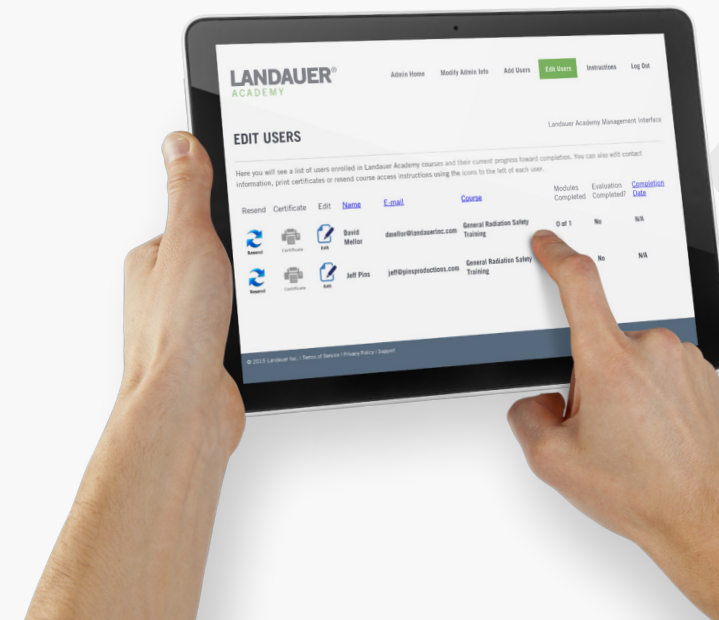

Landauer is dedicated to developing and delivering useful tools and resources to make your job easier.

Resources include:

- Webinars
- White Papers
- Short Online Courses
- Presentations and more

Learning Management

All courses are available through LandauerAcademy.com and are accessible through your computer, tablet or smart phone. Courses are self-guided, allowing you to pause, re-start and complete as you are able. Customized certificates are available to validate successful completion.

For facilities with multiple individuals, a customer-designated administrator can track and manage personnel compliance and progress on enterprise-wide training programs even across multiple facilities.